FORTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

Postal Affairs--Resolutions of Respect--Information Wanted as to the Cuban Insurgents.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—A number of petitions were presented to the Senate from Portland, Me., Hartford, Ct., and elsewhere, remonstrating against the revival of the income tax. All were referred to the committee on finance.

Kernan introduced a bill to provide for the appointment of two additional district Judges for the second judicial circuit, composed of New York, Vermont, and other States. Referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

The Military committee of the House were in consultation with the Caucus committee of thirteen, over the army bill and made considerable progress. The object of this consultation is to secure for the bill when completed the solid Democratic support. Complaint was made that some of the details had leaked out, and renewed pledges of secrecy were exacted.

HOUSE.—Muldrow, of Mississippi introduced a bill to aid the construction of the Ship Island, Ripley & Kentucky Railroad.

Postmaster Hadley, of Little Rock, was summoned before the committee of the House on the charge of certifying to blank postal bids. Senator Dorsey is somewhat loosely connected with the transaction.

Mr. Money stated in the House to-day, on the subject of "postoffice rings," that one forty-thousand dollar route was sub let for fifteen thousand dollars, and that one combination controlled over six hundred routes. Representative Williams, of Alabama, is chairman of the sub-committee of the Post Offices and Post Roads committee, to investigate the postal irregularities. It is proposed to go through them from Boston to the Confederate Cross Roads.

The Finance committee of the Senate to day considered the House bill extending the time for the withdrawal of whiskey to three years. Beck and Matthews spoke in favor of the measure. The committee will give the matter further consideration on Friday, and on Tuesday will hear A. G. Kerwiese and I. N. Oliver in behalf of certain Louisville wholesale dealers in opposition to the measure. It is understood that the eastern manufacturers are opposed to the extension.

A bill to regulate advertising for mail lettings, omitting the details, and referring bidders to the Postoffice Department for the details, and also annulling the contracts that are sub-let, was reported, discussed, and passed.

After some discussion, the House passed the general deficiency appropriation bill.

The remainder of the day was consumed in the consideration of the bill for a permanent form of government for the District of Columbia.

Ellis, of Louisiana, offered the customary resolutions in regard to the death of Hon. J. E. Leonard, and gave notice that he would call them up for action on Saturday, April 6th. The only witness before the Postoffice Committee to-day was Mr. John N. Adams, who has four contracts on the White River, the St. Francis, the Arkansas and the Mississippi. These contracts were awarded, not at the regular lettings under advertisements for bids, but at different periods. On some of them the service is performed by Mr. Adams, but is all done by sub-contractors under him, to whom he pays in some instances one-half of the original contract rates and in one instance not more than one-third.

The bill regulating the advertising of mail contracts, passed. It provides that they shall be brief and refer for details to the post office department. It also prohibits the subletting of mail contracts and declares such contracts null.

SENATE—Mr. Morgan, of Alabama, presented the petition of the citizens of Alabama favoring the passage of a law providing for the early construction and completion of the Texas Pacific Railroad. Referred to the Committee on Railroads. In presenting the petition, Mr. Morgan said he disapproved of the prayer of the petitioners.

The disabilities of Robert H. Chilton were removed.

Howe, of Wisconsin, submitted a resolution of inquiry with regard to the alleged defalcation of Judge Whitaker, of Louisiana. He will speak on the resolution Monday, when a public washing of dirty linen is expected.

Conover, of Florida, offered the following:

Resolved, That the President is hereby requested to communicate to the Senate, if not incompatible with the public interest, such information as the government has received respecting the terms and conditions under which the surrender of the Cuban insurgents has been made, together with such other information as is in his possession respecting the future policy of Spain in the government of the Island of Cuba. He asked for the immediate consideration of the resolution, but objection was made to it by Mr. Eaton, of Connecticut, and it was laid over.

Failures.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—G. A. Coursin, of San Francisco stock Exchange, has failed. He was a large operator in provisions.

NEW YORK, March 20.—Henry S. Wells, a contractor, who was interested in the Brunswick & Albany Railroad, of Georgia, has been adjudicated a bankrupt on his own petition. Liabilities 225,000 dollars and assets nominally much larger.

Sixty-six creditors of Isaac Bear & Son, dealers in toys, have filed a petition to have the firm adjudicated a bankrupt. The firm owes $185,755.

J. S. Cohn & Co., wholesale dealers in furs, have begun composition proceedings in bankruptcy. The firm proposes to pay thirty cents on the dollar in one, two and six months, on liabilities amounting to $180,350.

At a meeting of the directors and stockholders of the Brewers' and Grocers' Bank, it was resolved to wind up the concern. The cashier stated as reasons the defalcation of a former cashier, and the customers had lost confidence in the bank.

WORCESTER, MASS., March 20.—The failure of William H. Morse, president of the Security National Bank, raised a question as to the solvency of the Bank.

The Yellow Fever at Rio.

NEW YORK, March 20.—Dates from Rio Janeiro to 22nd of February, state that yellow fever is quite severe there, the fatalities among shipping reaching twenty-five to thirty daily. Stringent quarantine regulations are being enforced. Other fevers prevail in the city, where the mortality averages fifty daily. Prof. Chas. F. Hartt, of Cornell University, in charge of the Brazilian Geological Survey, has died of yellow fever.

EUROPE.

Russians Constructing a Railway--Anxiety About Austria's Future--Typhus Fever Raging in the Russian Army.

LONDON, March 20.—The Russians are constructing a railway from Bourgas to Jamboli, which will enable them to throw troops directly from Odessa into Southern Bulgaria and the Ægean sea.

Suleiman Pasha has arrived at Constantinople, in custody.

LONDON, March 20.—A special despatch to the Standard from Pesth states that the Austrian-Hungarian government has ordered a suspension of the work on five of the Russian torpedo boats, commenced near Vienna, pending an inquiry.

The Times has the following from Paris: It is stated that Russia now proposes to read the whole treaty to the Congress, leaving to it the right to select the articles for discussion. The correspondent believes that England will refuse this compromise and Russia will eventually yield.

Hobart Pasha has invited the principal leaders of the insurrection at Macrenitza, to meet him for a parley, with the view to a suspension of hostilities in Thessaly. His letter was addressed to the chiefs of the malcontent party. The chiefs assembled in council and replied that if Hobart Pasha wished an interview with the chiefs of the provisional government of the Province, they would send envoys to meet him immediately, indicating their determination to refuse a parley, unless their official status is recognized, which is inadmissible.

A special despatch from Berlin to the Times says: The North and South German newspapers express great anxiety about Austria's future. Russia is buying large quantities of saltpetre and torpedoes.

The Daily Telegraph's Vienna correspondent telegraphs: It is urged in official circles here that England has no ground to make war without first going to the Congress. If she does she will have the disapprobation of Germany and Austria. If England compromises the Congress, Count Andrassy's policy will be thwarted, and the hope of an ultimate Anglo-Austrian understanding must be abandoned. The Berlin Cabinet holds the same view.

Advices from Tiflis state that typhus is raging among the Russian troops in Asia. Generals Melikoff, Salbwieff and Schelkownikoff are reported to have died. It is believed that more men have been lost by sickness since the cessation of arms than on the battle-field during the war.

Fires.

DETROIT, March 20.—The House of a farmer named Hurley, living near Adrian, was burned, with his wife and two children.

CLEVELAND, OHIO, March 20.—At midnight a fire entirely consumed the building and contents of the Cleveland non-explosive Lamp Company; loss on stock $200,000. Insurance $80,000. The building was valued at $25,000; insured. Cause of fire unknown.

ATLANTA, GA., March 20.—The drug store of Pemberton, Samuels & Reynolds, and the book store of Burke & Hancock was damaged by fire and water at 5 o'clock this morning to the extent of about $16,000. Nearly all of the loss is covered by insurance.

A Ship and Crew Lost.

NEW YORK, March 20.—The details of the loss of the British steamship Astarte, at Castillas, which were received via Rio Janeiro, show she went to pieces within a short distance of land, but the surf was so heavy that no rescue could be attempted from the shore. Capt. Bayne and thirty of the crew perished. Only two were saved.

The Bishops of Richmond and Vincennes.

BALTIMORE, March 20.—The Catholic Mirror has official information that Rev. J. J. Keane, of Washington, has been appointed Bishop of Richmond, and Monsigneur Chatard Bishop of Vincennas, Indiana.

Roseberry and Rothschild.

LONDON, March 20.—The marriage of the Earl of Roseberry to Miss Hannah De Rothschild, only daughter of Baron Meyer De Rothschild, was celebrated to-day. They were first married civilly at the Registrar's office, and then in Christ Church.

The Toronto Riot.

TORONTO, March 20.—The rioting continued last night. There were two fatal shots. The total of the wounded is 250, of whom 14 are from pistol shots.

Death of General Haley.

HALIFAX, March 20.—General Sir William O'Grady Haley, commander-in-chief of Her Majesty's forces in North America, is dead.

Another English Cardinal.

It is rumored among the Catholics in England that the Pope will shortly make Rev. Dr. John Newman a Cardinal.

The Pope and Italy.

ROME, March 20.—Cardinal Franchi has assured a distinguished foreigner that Pope Leo wished for a strong and united Italy. He only required the firm assurance of the complete freedom of the Holy See. The Temporal power was not a dogma.

Cuban Peace Conditions Approved.

MADRID, March 20.—The Prime Minister Canovas Del Castillo yesterday informed the Cortes that the Cabinet had approved the Cuban peace conditions, which were very honorable.

The following, among other resolutions of thanks and congratulations, was unanimously adopted by the Mississippi House of Representatives just before adjournment: Resolved, by the House of Representatives, That the unanimous thanks of this body be and they are hereby tendered to the colored members for their uniform courtesy and manly, dignified devotion to public duty during this session, and that we congratulate the people of the State upon the selection of representatives so worthy from that race, and upon the arrival of that happy epoch when race prejudices and bitterness of feeling exist in our borders no longer.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

Inland Navigation of N. C.--Gov. Brogden Eloquent--A Carolina Artist--Father McNamara--Our Irreverent Age - Improvement of Washington.

(From our Daily Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, March, 19, 1878.

In the Senate, on yesterday, Senator Merrimon offered the following resolution, which was agreed to:

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Treasury be instructed to report to the Senate such information as he has in regard to the necessity for or expediency of erecting beacon lights to mark the channel of the line of inland navigation through North Landing River, Currituck Sound and North River, North Carolina.

Senator Christiancy delivered a forcible argument in favor of the Thurman bill to provide a sinking fund for the Pacific Railroads. He is an able lawyer and a strong thinker, without any oratorical attractiveness. When he was elected, by Democratic votes, as a conservative Senator, the "take in" was most marked, as his Radical proclivities are, ordinarily, as pronounced, as those of Conkling or Edmunds.

In the House, the Hon. R. B. Vance re-introduced the joint resolution directing the Secretary of the Treasury to pay out of the $375,000 appropriated last year to pay mail contractors in the South for services rendered prior to the war, the amount due to each contractor: Provided, (this time) that no contractor who was paid by the Confederate States shall be paid again. It was referred to the Committee on Claims.

The committee on Claims, to whom was referred the bill for the relief of Gen. P. B. Hawkins, have reported in favor of an allowance to him of $5,000, with interest from the 1st day of December, 1874, for stone furnished for the court house and post office building in Raleigh; "this to be in full payment for said stone, and for judgment recovered by said claimant in the Court of Claims against the United States in relation to this same matter." The original amount claimed was $8,962.50.

The Record of this morning contains the speech of Gov. Brogden, delivered in the House on the 27th ult., in favor of the bill granting pensions to certain soldiers and sailors of the Mexican and other wars therein named. The speech, of course, is copiously interlarded with those apt poetical quotations for which our "child of the skies" is so justly famed, for a speech from him, without these glittering excerpts, would be like the play of Hamlet with the part of the melancholy Dane omitted. But the spirit and sentiments of the speech are every way creditable, and Gov. Brogden pays, in the course of it, a very handsome tribute to the memory of Colonel Louis D. Wilson, of Edgecombe, who died at Vera Cruz, while in the service of his State and country.

There is now on exhibition at the Corcoran Art Gallery, a very fine full-length portrait of Mrs. Hayes, painted by Mr. Garl Brown, formerly of Raleigh, which does him infinite credit. It is destined for the Paris International Exhibition, and cannot fail to prove a noted specimen of American art, even in that assemblage of fine works.

Many of your city readers will remember Father McNamara, and those choice symposia on St. Patrick's day "in the evening," of which he was wont to be the promoter and central figure. I observe that that eccentric Padre has "gone back" on his patron Saint. On the evening of the 17th, in New York, to the edification of a large audience, he formally deposed the good old Bishop, St. Patrick, as Ireland's Saint, (because he was not born on Irish soil,) and set up St. Columbkill in his place. Some weeks since, he formally excommunicated the new Pope! A few days ago, by the way, the Paulist missionary, Rev. Jas P. Ryan, delivered a lecture in which, alluding to the efforts of certain priests of his own country in America, who were laboring to organize an Irish Church, without allegiance to the Pontiff, he spoke of Father McNamara as "a dynamite patriot." I call that a happy designation, and so must any one who remembers aught of the concentrated explosiveness of the man.

A correspondent of one of the papers here, who seems to be traveling with Grant and suite in Syria, writes a fulsome description of their movements and explorations in the Holy Land. I was shocked to see the following bold caption heralding one of the announcements: "Grant's TRIUMPHAL entry into Jerusalem!" I need say nothing as to the impiousness of the comparison suggested, whether intentionally or not. It may be remembered, in this connection, that, when Grant was inaugurated the second time, a full-length portrait of him was exhibited, over which was the inscription, "Ecce Homo,"—an inscription only before applied to Him who blended Humanity with Divinity! But all these things are the legitimate out-croppings of the irreverent and atheistic teachings of the day, with its man-worship and mammon-worship tendencies.

A writer in the New York Times, who has lately re-visited Washington after an absence of thirteen years, speaks in the most glowing terms of its attractiveness. Until I came here, at the commencement of the present Congress, a longer interval of time had elapsed since I had been in the National Capitol, and I was unprepared for its growth in population and its wonderful architectural improvement. In the course of time, it will be the most elegant city in the Union; as, certainly, no city in the Republic has such capabilities for architectural adornment. The writer referred to, however, speaks with a sneer of the disappearance of the "dingy, mediæval houses and equipages of slave-holding days." He might have referred, with greater justice, to yet another "disappearance," viz: the departure (with, of course, many exceptions,) of that elegant, refined, and intellectual social elevation, and that genial, hearty, old-fashioned and unpretentious hospitality that made the Washington of old, in these respects, very different from the modern city.

In the absence of items of political or legislative interest, I have given you but little more than a "dish of gossip" to-day. S. G.

1812 PENSIONS.

AN ACT amending the laws granting pensions to the soldiers and sailors of the war of eighteen hundred and twelve, and their widows, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of the Interior be, and he is hereby, authorized and directed to place on the pension-rolls the names of the surviving officers and enlisted and drafted men, without regard to color, including militia and volunteers, of the military and naval service of the United States, who served for fourteen days in the war with Great Britain of eighteen hundred and twelve, or who were in any engagement, and were honorably discharged, and the surviving widows of such officers and enlisted and drafted men.

SEC. 2. That this act shall not apply to any person who is receiving a pension at the rate of eight dollars per month or more, nor to any person receiving a pension of less than eight dollars per month, except for the difference between the pension now received (if less than eight dollars per month) and eight dollars per month. Pensions under this act shall be at the rate of eight dollars per month, except as herein provided, and shall be paid to the persons entitled thereto, from and after the passage of this act, for and during their natural lives: Provided, That the pensions to widows provided for in this act shall cease when they shall marry again.

SEC. 3. That before the name of any person shall be placed upon the pension rolls under this act, proof shall be made, under such rules and regulations as the Commissioner of Pensions, with the approval of the Secretary of the Interior, shall prescribe, that the applicant is entitled to a pension under this act; and any person who shall falsely take any oath required to be taken under the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of perjury; and the Secretary of the Interior shall cause to be stricken from the rolls the name of any person, when it shall appear, by proof satisfactory to him, that such name was put on said rolls by or through false or fraudulent representations, or by mistake as to the right of such person to a pension under this act. The loss or lack of a certificate of discharge shall not deprive the applicant of the benefit of this act, but other proof of the service performed and of an honorable discharge, if satisfactory, shall be deemed sufficient; and when there is no record evidence of such service and such discharge, the applicant may establish the same by other satisfactory testimony: Provided, That when any person has been granted a land-warrant under any act of Congress for and on account of service in the said war of eighteen hundred and twelve, such grant shall be prima facie evidence of his service and honorable discharge, so as to entitle him, if living, or his widow, if he be dead, to a pension under this act; but such evidence shall not be conclusive, and may be rebutted by evidence that such land-warrant was improperly granted.

SEC. 4. That all applications for pensions of the classes provided for in this act heretofore or which may hereafter be made shall be considered and decided as though made under this act; and all laws now in force in regard to the manner of paying pensions, and in reference to the punishment of frauds, shall be applicable to all claims under the provisions of this act.

SEC. 5. That the Secretary of the Interior be, and he is hereby, authorized and directed to restore to the pension-rolls the names of all persons now surviving, heretofore pensioned on account of service in the war of eighteen hundred and twelve against Great Britain, or for service in any of the Indian wars, and whose names were stricken from the rolls in pursuance of the act entitled "An act authorizing the Secretary of the Interior to strike from the pension-rolls the names of such persons as to have taken up arms against the government, or who have in any manner encouraged the rebels," approved February fourth, eighteen hundred and sixty-two; and that the joint resolution entitled "Joint resolution prohibiting payment by any officer of the government to any person not known to have been opposed to the rebellion and in favor of its suppression," approved March second, eighteen hundred and sixty-seven, and section four thousand seven hundred and sixteen of the Revised Statutes of the United States, shall not apply to the persons provided for by this act: Provided, That no money shall be paid to any one on account of pensions for the time during which his name remained stricken from the rolls.

SEC. 6. That the surviving widow of any pensioner of the war of eighteen hundred and twelve, where the name of said pensioner was stricken from the pension-rolls in pursuance of the act entitled "An act authoring the Secretary of the Interior to strike from the pension-rolls the names of such persons as have taken up arms against the government, or who have in any manner encouraged the rebels," approved February fourth, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, and where, under the existing provisions of law, said pensioner died without his name being restored to the rolls, shall be entitled to make claim for a pension as such widow after the passage of this act: Provided, That no such arrearages shall be paid for any period prior to the time of the removal of the disability of the pensioner, as provided in section five: And provided further, That under this act any widow of a Revolutionary soldier who served fourteen days or was in any engagement, shall be placed upon the pension-rolls of the United States, and receive a pension at the rate of eight dollars per month.

SEC. 7. That all laws and clauses of laws in conflict with this act be, and they are hereby, repealed.

Approved, March 9, 1878.

Governor Vance.

[Lincolnton News.]

The Hillsboro Recorder has raised the name of Governor Vance for the United States Senate. This may seem to be premature, but it is not so. The time is near at hand when the nominations will be made for members of the legislature, who will elect United States Senator, and it will be well enough for the people to know before-hand how their members will stand on this subject. Governor Vance is such a favorite in this section of the State that we suppose the people will require the candidates to make known their preferences on this question.

According to a recent statistician, Sweden is the drunkenest of countries, but Scotland comes in a good second.

Cat-Fishing.

(N. Y. Times.)

Many and ingenious are the remedies that have been proposed for nocturnal cats, but none of them seems to have proved thoroughly successful. It was pointed out in these columns not very long ago that the extirpation of all fences which run in a direction parallel, or nearly parallel, with the equator would exempt cats from electrical difficulties in their internal organs, and would thus hush the cries that now render night hideous; but there is a practical difficulty in dispensing with these fences. Another remedy, which is a certain cure for nocturnal cats, is suggested by the fact that cats cannot live at a greater elevation than 13,000 feet above the sea. If we build our back fences 13,500 feet high, not a cat will scale their lofty summits; but the labor and expense of constructing fences of this height would be so great as to forbid their erection by persons of small incomes. Mere palliations, such as boot jacks and lumps of coal, never accomplish any lasting benefit; they may discourage an occasional cat, but his place will instantly be filled. With all their habitual caution, cats are bold, and will often rush in where an average angel would fear to tread. To deal effectually with them is a task which calls for the highest form of inventive genius, combined with patience and a reckless indifference to Mr. Bergh's opinions.

The young man in West Thirty-fifth Street who lately introduced cat-fishing as a manly and beneficent sport can scarcely be said to have devised an absolute specific for cats, but he has unquestionably contributed to lessen the number of cats in his immediate vicinity. Early last Fall a vast area of cats, accompanied with marked depression of the spirits of the inhabitants of West Thirty-fifth Street, overspread that unfortuniate region. After a thorough trial of most of the popular remedies, a young man residing on the block between Fifth and Sixth-avenues, and who may be called—not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith—by the name of Thompson, hit upon the idea of angling for cats. To the end of a strong blue-fish line he affixed a salmon-hook, baited with delicate morsels of meat. At first, this hook, deftly dropped from a back window, was permitted to lie on the top of the back fence. The first cat that passed over the fence would investigate the bait, and, finding it apparently free from fraud, would begin to eat it. A slight pull at the line would usually fix the hook in the cat's mouth, and the angler would haul in his prey and knock it on the head. It frequently happened, however, that the cat could not be successfully "struck," and would escape and warn his associates to beware of concealed hooks. Moreover, the angler had his bait gorged, upon one occasion, by a tramp, who had climbed the fence with a view to gaining access to the kitchen, and, though the game was landed in the second-story back room, after having been gaffed with a sword bayonet, he had so much difficulty in subsequently disposing of the body that he dreaded a repetition of the incident. He therefore altered his method of angling, and adopted a modified style of fly-fishing.

This latter sport was carried on with the aid of a long bamboo fishing-pole. The hook was baited as before, but instead of being permitted to lie on the top of the fence, was suffered to dangle in the air, about two feet above it. As soon as a cat preceived the bait, he assumed, with the intense self-conceit characteristic of his race, that it was a supernatural recognition of his extraordinary merits, and could be fearlessly appropriated. In order to seize it he was, of course, compelled to leap upward, and it was very seldom that he failed to hook himself. By this plan, not only was the necessity of "striking" the cat obviated, but the danger that the bait would be seized by tramps was greatly lessened, while the excitement and interest of the sport were increased.

The young man became greatly fascinated with his new occupation, and having effected an arrangement with a popular French restaurant, was enabled to dispose of his game easily and profitably. On moonlight nights, when the late Fall cats were in season, he often caught a string of from three to four dozen during a single night, many of them weighing ten or fifteen pounds each. So few cats escaped after having once leaped at the bait, that no general suspicion of the deadly nature of apparently ærial meat was disseminated among the feline population of the neighborhood. Before the Winter was over cats had become so scarce that the sportsman was seriously contemplating the necessity of artificially stocking the back fences of Thirty-fifth Street, when an unfortunate accident brought his beneficent occupation to a sudden end. An old gentleman, residing in a house on Thirty-sixth Street, the back yard of which adjoined the fence where the young man practiced his sport, noticed one evening that something attached to a string was dangling over his back fence. As he had a pretty daughter, he immediately suspected that it was a surreptitious note, and stole softly out to seize and confiscate it. Mounting on a barrel he clutched the supposed note, and was instantly hooked. The tackle was strong, and he would perhaps have been landed had not the hook torn out when he was about forty feet from the ground. After he had recovered from the injuries caused by the fall, and the weakness consequent upon the amputation of all his legs, he evinced so much annoyance at the so-called outrage which had been inflicted upon him, that the young man, who was a person of the most delicate feelings, promised to give up cat fishing. Of course, had the old gentleman been thoroughly gaffed, he would not have fallen, and perhaps the young man felt that his failure to gaff him was an inexcusable error, which really called for his graceful retirement from cat-fishing.

This example ought to bear fruit. At a very small expense for tackle, any resident of this City who occupies a back room can secure excellent sport, and at the same time can render a great service to humanity by reducing the number of cats. The sport ought speedily to become a very popular one, and there can be but little doubt that in time cat-fishing will rival trout-fishing in the estimation of American sportsmen.

[Correspondence of the NEWS.]

WILSON, N. C., March 19, 1878.

On last Thursday night the Railroad Office in this place was broken into, and about fifty dollars in money and a lot of Railroad tickets were stolen therefrom. On Friday night, one Collins was arrested in the town of Toisnot, in this county, in the act of entering the ticket office at that place. Several dollars, answering the description of the money stolen from the office here, were found upon his person, and he was committed to jail to answer the charge of breaking into the office at Toisnot. Some time during the next day, Collins made a confesion, in which he stated that one W. G. Welch was his accomplice, and that Welch broke in the office, and he, Collins, assisted, and they divided the money among themselves. Immediately after this a warrant was issued and Welch was arrested, and on Saturday evening was tried before C. Barnes and T. C. Davis, J. P's. After a prolonged investigation of the case, Welch was discharged, there being no evidence warranting the magistrates to bind him over to court. Collins is now in jail to await a higher court.

The old convention system, or primary elections, is under discussion, and is creating a good deal of interest in this county. There are strong advocates on both sides.

The wheat crop of Wilson county is very promising.

Mrs. Polly Rose, widow of Joel Rose, deceased, died in Black Creek Township, in this county, on Friday night last At the time of her death she was about 85 years of age, and highly esteemed and respected by her many friends and relations. T.

Lemons' Spring.

To the Editor of the News.

SIR: A mineral spring was discovered some years since on the lands of Mr. Duncan M. Lemons, about two and a half miles west of Munn's Station, on the Raleigh & Augusta Railroad. Mr. Lemons is a very worthy and industrious farmer, supporting, comfortably, a wife and eleven children, and while there has been no effort to bring the virtues of this spring before the public, I think it possesses important medicinal properties. Diphtheria, that great destroyer of little children, which caused so many deaths in that vicinity for the past two or three years, has never visited the family of Mr. Lemons or any of his neighbors who used the water from this spring; besides, he assures me, that this water never fails to relieve in a very short time, those who have used the same freely, afflicted with dyspepsia, scrofula, kidney disease or diseases peculiar to women, &c., &c. Mr. Lemons has consented to have this spring advertised, and to commence the erection of buildings this spring and summer for the accommodation of visitors. Those seeking health or pleasure can find many places in their own State to spend their money, without going amongst a people that are continually traducing and abusing our section.

[Correspondence of the News.]

OXFORD, N. C., March 18, 1878.

Yesterday was an interesting day with our church-going people. All of our churches were open, and notably, St. Stephens' Episcopal church, whose pulpit was occupied in the morning by the Right Reverend Bishop Atkinson, and the Methodist Episcopal church, which was thronged by an audience eager to hear Dr. Wilson, the Presiding Elder of this district.

Both of these distinguished divines have a strong hold on the affections of our people on account of their personal popularity as individuals, and on account of their pulpit abilities.

The sermon here at night at St. Stephens was preached by Rev. Mr. Pettigrew, and was an impressive and instructive discourse. At the conclusion of his sermon the rite of confirmation was administered to two persons, a young lady and an aged colored man, who is the sexton of the church. He was formerly the servant of the late Dr. James T. Gilliam, and is a colored man of high character. VERITAS.

CONCORD, N. C., March 17, 1878.

To the Editor of the News:

SIR:—As usual, Cabarrus is preparing early for the approaching political contest. Our Executive Committee will soon issue notice for holding of township meetings and County Convention. And when the Convention meets it will declare unanimously for Judge Schenck for Chief Justice, and instruct the party in this county to support no man for office who is not warmly for Governor Vance for United States Senator.

We call upon the State Executive Committee to issue a strong appeal to the party throughout the State to stand firmly and faithfully by its organization. Our organization has alone redeemed our State from Radicalism, and can alone secure our party victory in the future. DEMOCRAT.

The Negro Astronomical Theory.

A negro preacher named John Jasper is the hero of the hour. Jonn is the pastor of the largest colored Baptist church in Richmond, Va. He says he has been in the Ministry 38 years, and has in that time preached 24,000 times—nearly twice a day. He is, according to his own account, not "educated" but "gifted." Last Sunday he preached to an immense congregation, on the "Sun and the Earth." He maintained that the theory about the earth revolving around the sun is all nonsense; that the sun moves and the earth stands still, and that the philosophers are all wrong in their astronomical theories. He argued, first, that Joshua told the sun to stand still. How could it stand still if had not been moving? David says, "the rising and going down of the sun." Would any grammarian say that "rising" meant "standing still," or that anything could go down that was standing still at the time? Isaiah said God turned the sun back ten degrees. Could it be turned back if it had not been moving? At the end of his sermon he demanded that all who believed the sun moved around the earth, and not the earth around the sun, should raise their right hands, whereupon every man, woman and child in the vast audience did so. As a sensationalist sermoniser JOHN JASPER takes the lead of all the preachers. No sermon of late years has created so much talk as this.

ROBESON.

A Fine County--Politics and Farming--News Items.

Special Correspondence of the NEWS.

LUMBERTON, N. C., March 18, 1878.

In many respects, "Old Robeson"—for she is now 90 years of age—is one of the best counties in the State, her area and population are of the largest, and the taxes paid to the Treasury are considerable, her farming interest has greatly improved and the facilities for transportation are perhaps equal to those of any section of the State, and besides she has no ordinary history. It was she who made the great fight which saved the State in the late Convention, and had we not held out, the grip of Radicalism would still be upon our throats. It was here, that the notorious "Lowry gang," was master of the situation, and defied both State and Federal authority, for 10 years, until they were all killed, but times have changed most wonderfully and men too, for everything is now as quiet and serene as heart could desire.

The farmers are all working hard and preparing for an abundant harvest, with every prospect so far of success. Having learned something about fertilizers, by experience, they are now profiting by it.

In regard to politics and elections, which will soon agitate the country from mountain to coast, we hear almost nothing as yet. People, however, are in favor of the doctrine of rotation in office in county matters, and will go for a new deal, which seems to be nothing more than fair play. Conventions will not have the same power of uniting parties, as heretofore, unless managed very prudently and acceptable candidates put out for office.

By the way, Mr. Editor, can you not come down to our Superior Court, which commences on the 25th inst., and see something of the "garden spot?"

The people are enquiring and eager for the NEWS, and will be more so as the campaign approaches.

ROBESON.

Closing Scene of the Russo-Turkish War.

The closing scene of the war is described with great spirit by a correspondent of The Daily News. In a house by the seaside at San Stefano, shaken by the increasing gale that tore across the Sea of Marmora, were busy all night long the secretaries of both diplomatic bodies, copying and arranging for the signatures the treaty of peace, the result of the now concluded negotiations. All night long Prince Tzreteleff dictated the treaty to his colleague, Chebachoff, who wrote and wrote through the long hours, until the document was finished. About 4 o'clock the Grand Duke mounted and rode up to the Diplomatic Chancery, where he asked at the door, "Is it ready?" and then galloped toward the hill where the army was drawn up. Finally a carriage came whirling out of the village toward us. General Ignatieff was in it, and when he approached, he rose and said, "I have the honor to congratulate your Highness on the signature of peace." There was a long, loud shout. After riding between the lines, the Grand Duke halted on a little eminence, whence all the troops could be seen, and formally made the announcement of the peace: "I have the honor to inform the army that, with the help of God, we have concluded a treaty of peace." Then another shout burst forth from 20,000 throats, rising, swelling and dying away. After the review, gathering his officers about him where the priest stood ready for the Te Deum, the Grand Duke spoke briefly and emphatically, saying: "To an army which has accomplished what you have, my friends, nothing is impossible." Then all dismounted, uncovered, and a solemn service was conducted, the soldiers all kneeling. Never was a peace concluded under more impressive surroundings; the two armies face to face, the clearing storm, the waning light of day, the rush of the wind, and the near wash of the wave mingling with the chant of the priests, and the responses of the soldiers and the roar of the Sea of Marmora swelling and falling. Across the fretting, chafing waters of the sea, the dome and slender minarets of St. Sophia came up sharply against the sky, the dominant points in the interesting silhouette of distant Stamboul. Away to the South, the Princes Islands rose like great mounds, dark and massive, against the distant Asiatic shore, and behind them was hidden the English fleet. Above and far beyond, the white peak of Mount Olympus unveiled for the moment its majestic summit, as the rays of the ruddy sunset were reflected from its snow-colored flanks.

Wil. Star: The body of a drowned man was found floating in what is known as Hospital Cove, about three miles below this city, on Sunday afternoon last. The body was that of an unknown man who had apparently been in the water some four or five months. ......Upwards of 17,000 bushels of corn have been received here during the past day or two.——It is a singular fact, in connection with the remarkable winter that has just closed, that mosquitoes never entirely disappeared from our midst during the season.......Thomas Turney, a good brickmason and plasterer of low, chubby build, baldheaded, fair complexion, blue eyes, and blind in left eye, left his home in this city, seven weeks ago, ostensibly to visit Maxwell's, in Sampson county, since which time nothing has been heard from him, except a rumor that he had left the man he was at work with at the place mentioned. Any information as to his whereabouts will be thankfully received by his distressed wife, Mrs. Margaret C. Turney, Wilmington, N. C.

The Stinging Sensation

In the gullet called "heartburn," why, it is impossible to conceive, since the heart has nothing to do with it) is caused by the acetous fermentation in the stomach of the food contained in it; by an overplus of the gastric juice, which is itself a powerful acid, or by the unnaturally acrid quality of that secretion. The ordinary way of treating this symptom, for it is nothing else, is to administer bi-carbonate of soda, an alkali, to neutralize the acid. But sour stomach cannot be cured by alkalis, which tend to weaken the digestive apparatus. A far better remedy is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which strengthens the cellular membrane, the seat of the difficulty, regulates the flow of the gastric secretion, improves the quality if vitiated, and puts the stomach into good working order. Perfect digestion follows as a natural sequence, and there is no more trouble from heartburn or sour stomach. The liver and bowels are also thoroughly regulated by this sovereign alterative. mar 19 6t

Errors in the Administration.

President Hayes may commit grievous errors in his Government Policy, but the person who administers Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for biliousness, or liver complaint, impure blood, scrofula, or king's evil, pimples, blotches, eruptions, or any blood disease, will be rewarded by the restoration of health and order in the diseased system.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Six Substantial Reasons

Why you should Insure in the

Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company,

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

1st. Because it is one of the oldest Companies in the country, and past the day of experiments.

2d. Because it is a purely Mutual Company. Every Policy-Holder is a member of the Company, entitled to all its advantages and privileges, having a right to vote at all elections for Trustees, and thus has an influence in its management.

3d. Because it has as large a percentage of assets to liabilities as any Life Insurance Company in the country.

4th. Because, by economical management, its ratio of expenses to total income is far below the average of Life Companies. (See Official Insurance Reports.)

5th. Because it has declared more dividends in number, and of a larger average percentage, than any other Company in the United States.

For example: Policy No. 16, for $5,000, has been paid to the widow of a Philadelphia Merchant upon which twenty-three dividends had been declared, averaging fifty-seven per cent. Had these dividends been used to purchase additions to this Policy, $5,546 more would have been realized, making the Policy worth $11,046.

6th. Because it is liberal in its management, prompt in its settlements safe beyond a contingency, and its rates are as low as any first-class Company in the country.

PRINCIPAL FEATURES.—Small expenses, absolute security, large return premiums, prompt payment of losses, and liberal to the insured.

STATE NEWS.

Durham Tobacco Plant: Mr. James H. Southgate, a student of the University, started from Durham on foot, to Chapel Hill, a distance of 12 miles, and made the entire route in two hours and twenty-six minutes.

Roanoke News: The Wilmington and Weldon Railroad has been completed 38 years. During that time it has only killed one passenger......We are informed that the amount necessary has been subscribed and that the races will certainly take place on the Fair Grounds sometime in April.

Newbern Nut Shell: It was rumored in our city yesterday that a murder has been recently committed near Batchelor Creek, and that the body of the murdered person, who it seems was the wife of the murderer, has been kept concealed until within the past day or two. We were unable to get the particulars yesterday, but hope to find out something more definite to-day.

Statesville Landmark: Mooresville has a first-rate string band, eight stores, two cabinet shops, one jewelry shop, one harness shop, three shoe shops, four blacksmith shops, two flourishing schools, two churches, one hotel, lots of pretty girls; and all she now needs to complete her long list of attractions is a newspaper and silver cornet band, both of which she expects to acquire before any distant day.

Wilmington Review: Reverend Jas. H. Stringfellow, of Columbia, S. C., preached at St. James' yesterday morning, and at St. John's at night. Mr. Stringfellow's father and grandfather, as well as his uncles, are all clergymen in the Episcopal Church, and the three generations, father, son and grandson, have all served in the same chancel at the same time, a fact which is probably without a parallel in the country, in any church.

Charlotte Observer: Stephen McCorkle, who has earned the name of apostle of the whipping post, by reason of the fact that he is the first colored man who has openly advocated its restoration, has just returned from Georgia, where he has been advocating his doctrine with remarkable ardor. He reports that State on fire on the subject. He is highly elated and feels that he is daily covering himself with glory.

Charlotte Observer: Messrs. Griffith & Dumont, land agents, are energetically working up the immigration interest. One of their plans of trading with parties at the north is to send them photographs of plats of land, made up from actual surveys, showing water courses, timber lands, &c. They are in correspondence with a number of people at the north....There is no sort of doubt about the fact that the chicken dispute which is to take place in this city on the 9th of April will be a very large affair. It will indeed, in all probability, be the greatest event of this particular character that has ever taken place in the South.

Reidsville Times: The conservatives of Surry county held a meeting last week and appointed delegates to a district convention to nominate a candidate for Judge, to succeed Judge Cloud, and recommended Yadkinville as the place......Wm. Windsor, one of the worthy and respectable citizens of the neighborhood of Lawsonville, died very suddenly last Saturday evening....Maj. J. Turner Moorehead, of Leaksville, left here Wednesday, to attend a meeting of the Directors of the R. & D. R. Maj. M. is working for the Reidsville and Leaksville Narrow Guage Road, and attends this meeting for the purpose of securing the co-operation of the first mentioned party in his enterprise. ......It seems that Bowman, the Rockingham man who is in Guilford jail, charged with murder, is making himself a very popular prisoner. His trial is moved to Randolph, and as the present term of that court has been held, he will not be tried until next August.

And the paper that records this pleasing fact says that Mr. Joseph Bryam, a gentleman of the same State, in his 70th year, is the father of four healthy children, born within the past two years—two boys first and then two girls.

Baltimore Sun: In the House of Representatives, yesterday, Mr. Cox, of New York, introduced a bill providing for the erection of a monument over the grave of Thomas Jefferson, at Monticello, near Charlottesville, Va. It is well known that the former home of Mr. Jefferson is a wreck, and that the grave containing his remains is now almost unmarked.

A Voice from Alabama.

The State Executive Committee of the Democratic party of Alabama, met on the 11th of March. It called the State Convention to meet at Montgomery, on Wednesday, May 29th, and issued an address which breathes a spirit that should be emulated by every Conservative State Committee in the South, and should be heeded by all those who seek to defeat the aims of our party by independent movements, or by combinations of bolters from our ranks with Republicans. The address is so admirable, so suggestive, and so applicable to the situation in our own State, that we make no apology for printing it in full. The committee say:

"We are about to enter upon another political campaign, the results of which cannot fail to exert an important influence upon the material, social and political interests of the State for two years, and perhaps for a much longer time. The wrongs we endured, the injuries we sustained, the indignities to which we were subjected, the disregard of the public interests, and the profligacy and crime which characterized Republican rule in Alabama for more than seven years, are all too fresh in the recollection to require that we be warned to exercise that vigilance which is 'the price of liberty,' to avoid the recurrence of similar calamities, which would certainly follow the defeat and overthrow of the Democratic and Conservative party in the State.

"It is not probable that the party, from whose rule we have suffered so many evils in Alabama, will again meet us in open contest under its old name and organization. What it cannot hope to accomplish directly, it will seek to effect by indirection. It will next be felt in an attempt to create dissensions in our own ranks, and if we meet it at all, it will probably be under the banner of 'independentism,' or some other specious disguise. In whatever shape it may present itself, our sacred duty as well as our most important interests demand that we should crush it. 'He that is not for us is against us.' No man can be considered a good Democrat who will deliberately place himself outside of our organization and attempt to defeat its chosen standard bearers.

"The essential object of our party is to carry into the administration of the government the policies and principles upon which it is founded. Internal dissensions never fail to weaken a party, and often render it an easy prey for its enemies. If our party is defeated, from whatever cause—from dissensions within, or by an open foe without—the essential object of its existence is also defeated, and antagonistic principles are apt to become the policy of the Government.

"If any further argument be necessary to induce a firm adherence to our organization and principles, we have but to contrast the administration of the State government for a little more than three years past, with the calamitous period to which we have referred. Since our party was restored to the full and undisputed control of the government, much good to the people has been effected. A new constitution, emanating directly from the people, in lieu of one fastened upon us by arbitrary force, has been established. The Legislative power to tax the people has been limited; the power to lend the public credit or to create a public debt beyond the capacity of the people to pay, has been annulled; nearly twenty millions of the public debt created by preceding administrations have been swept from existence—the interest on the remainder reduced; the expenses of the State Government have been greatly diminished; public confidence has been restored; our State obligations, which were worth from seventy to seventy-five per cent. on the dollar, now command a premium in the market; the gloom that rested upon the hearts of our people has been dissipated; emigration from the State has in a great measure abated; law and order prevails, while peace, contentment and the evidences of industry, thrift and returning prosperity abound throughout all our borders. Much has been done: much more has been begun, the full fruition of which we may hope to realize under the continued rule of the Democratic and Conservative party.

"In view of these undeniable facts, and many others which might be presented, we adjure you, fellow-citizens, as you value the highest interests of the Commonwealth, that you permit no disorganizing influences to sap our strength or hazard the continued success of our party.

"But the mission of the Democratic and Conservative party is not limited to the narrow confines of the State. The party as it exists in this State is but a segment of that grand organization of patriots extending throughout the Union, whose purpose and destiny are to sweep from power and place the party under whose malign policy and sway every national interest has suffered, and the people brought to the verge of almost universal bankruptcy and ruin. Wherever the Republican party has maintained ascendancy for any length of time, either in the National or State governments, the history of its conduct of public affairs has been marked by the most flagrant corruptions, and an utter disregard of the rights, the interests and liberties of the people. Its long and uninterrupted career of profligacy and crime found a fitting culmination, at last, in the inauguration of a President and Vice-President of the United States by means of the most shameless frauds, forgeries and perjuries. But few men could now be found in any section of the Union who, in the light of events which have transpired within the last twelve months, would have the temerity to deny that Tilden and Hendricks were fairly elected in the last Presidential campaign, and that Hayes and Wheeler were as fairly defeated.

"The repetition of a crime so stupendous could hardly fail to result in the complete subversion of the government and the destruction of public liberty. The question then which addresses itself to every patriot is, shall this great crime against the rights and liberties of the people be allowed to pass unchallenged, or, shall the people, through the ballot box, visit upon the party which perpetrated it, that condign punishment, which shall answer as a perpetual guarantee to the public against any attempt at its repetition.

"Alabama should be an important factor in the great movement to redress the public grievances, and to bring back the government to its ancient and constitutional courses. In order that she may be effective in this movement it is indispensable that she preserve her alignment with her sister Democratic States of the Union. Any break in our ranks, however temporary, any exposed weakness in our organization, would encourage the enemy through the Union, and dampen in a corresponding degree the ardor of our friends. Let us then, with unbroken unanimity, sacrifice upon the altar of the common good all individual aspirations and ambitions not in harmony with the success of our party. Let us, by presenting at all times an unbroken front, hold up the hands of our friends in all parts of the Union, and particularly in those sections where the contest will be deep and bitter and the issue doubtful. Let us, in a word, discharge with fidelity a sacred public duty and we will yet be allowed to participate in the joys as well as in the glory incident to the full and final consummation of the patriot's most cherished hopes."

Almost every sentence in this stirring, patriotic, manly utterance, fits North Carolina, with this difference, that we are still confronted by a compact Republican organization, which needs only the helping hands of a few independents, bolters and disorganizers to recover its lost power. If we would maintain our ascendancy, we must heed such advice as is contained in the above address. We must permit no disorganizing influences to sap our strength, or hazard the continued success of our party. We must present an unbroken front to our political adversary, and preserve our alignment with our sister Democratic States of the Union.

THE telephone is coming home to us. A telephonic concert has taken place between Richmond and Norfolk. The managers of the Western Union Telegraph Company collected a quartette of male voices at the office in Richmond, and several lady and gentlemen singers at the office in Norfolk, on Tuesday evening. The two companies talked and sang to each other over the wires, the experiment proving entirely satisfactory. The voices could be as distinctly heard as if present in the room. The Whig says:

"In Norfolk, Miss Nancy Lee and Frank Craig rendered the 'Drinking Song' (Martha), very sweetly—the Richmond audience loudly encored them. 'Old Black Joe' was rendered by Mr. W. G. Elliott. Duett—'Land of Swallows'—by Mrs. Blow and Mrs. Elliott, was much enjoyed by the Richmond audience."

A telephonic instrument has been introduced in the office of the Western Union Telegraph Company at Petersburg, which is working with gratifying success. The Petersburg Index-Appeal says of it:

"Conversations can be carried on with great ease and distinctness between persons in the offices in Richmond and Petersburg, and airs sung in one office are transmitted unbroken to the other. The tones of the voice are so clear and distinct that they are easily distinguished and recognized. The new telephonic attachments are a great improvement on those formerly in use, and greatly facilitate the transmission of sounds. Several ladies and gentlemen, by the courtesy of the gentlemen in charge, met in the office in this city evening before last, and spent some time in carrying on conversation with the Richmond office, and in listening to the airs sung at the other end for their benefit."

When are we to have telephonic instruments introduced into the telegraph offices in this State? North Carolina should not be "behind the times."

THE narrow guage railroad building is infectious. The citizens of Person county held a meeting in Roxboro on Thursday last, to take into consideration the extending of the narrow guage road from Milton to Roxboro. The meeting was a very enthusiastic one, and was attended by a number of the leading citizens of the county. The subject was canvassed, and some $150,000 pledged to build the road, and the right of way given. Mr. Broadus, of Richmond, has prospected from Milton to Roxboro, and the building of the road to that point is considered a fixed fact. The question is now whether it will go to Durham or go to Oxford. The Durham Tobacco Plant proposes that the citizens of Durham hold a meeting to consider the matter:

WONDERS will never cease. Professor Edison, of Philadelphia, the inventor of the carbon telephone, has invented a new instrument called the airophone. It is so constructed that words can be articulated, and they gather such force as to be heard for a number of miles with great distinctness. By its aid captains of vessels meeting at sea could converse easily while three or four miles apart; signal station officers could warn vessels coming on a dangerous coast to keep off, and it is adapted to all uses to which such instruments as foghorns, &c., are now applied.

THE Charlotte Democrat says. "If any one thinks the people will not patronize corrupt, lying and unreliable papers, let him see how largely some of the Northern daily, weekly and periodical papers are patronized in the South, notwithstanding their abuse and slanders of our best men."

MUCH is said about inducing immigration to our State. An equally important question is, How shall the emigration from our State be checked? The outflow of population is greater than the inflow.

DAILY NEWS

TUESDAY.....MARCH 21, 1878

To Keep a True Lent.

Is this a fast, to keep
The larder leane?
And cleane
From fat of veales and sheep?

Is it to quit the dish
Of flesh, yet still
To fill
The platter high with fish?

Is it a fast an houre,
Or rag'd to go,
Or show
A downe-cast look, and sowre?

No; 'tis a fast, to dole
Thy sheaf of wheat
And meat,
Unto the hungry soule.

It is to fast from strife,
From old debate,
And hate;
To circumcise thy life,

To show a heart grief-rent;
To starve thy sin,
Not bin;
And that's to keep thy Lent.

Robert Herrick.

GENERAL NOTES.

A Jewish wedding was celebrated in a Methodist church in Lockport, Ind., one day last week, a rabbi, of course, officiating.

More than $400,000 in gold and notes were found in Pius IX's apartment. The entire amount he has left is estimated at near $25,000,000.

Two Iowa men traded wives eight years ago, and now wish to swap back, but one of the wives objects, and there is much trouble in consequence.

M. Montclair, in the French Journal of Agriculture, suggests that a variety of flavors could be imparted to meat by giving beasts strongly flavored food.

Prince Leopold, the youngest son of Queen Victoria, has written a book upon the Polarization of Light, which is to be published during the present year.

Engineering says: "About a dozen German telegraph offices have been provided with telephones, and those appear to have proved so effective that forty-eight more offices are now being provided with similar instruments."

The Journal de Commercio of Brazil states that 32,000 persons have been driven by famine from the province of Ceara, Brazil, where the loss of cattle is estimated at ten million piastres. Nearly every animal has died of want.

Arrests of Communists are every day announced in Paris. The latest discovered was a Captain of the Insurgent army of 1871, and he was wanted by the police for several acts of fraud, as well as for the part he took in the insurrection.

Mr. Labouchere says the "great feature of the Exhibition at Paris will be a wide cascade of water which will fall from the Trocadero. There will be a path behind it, and the entire Champs de Mars will be seen through the curtain of water."

Under the Board of Charities, in Utica, the labor of tramps has yielded a net income of $1,000. The cost of maintaining the city poor at the hospitals has been reduced one half, or $83,583 for five years, under the Board, while under the Overseers of the Poor it was $158,782.

A mother whose crying infant made the sermon of her pastor almost inaudible, was going from the hall when the clergyman spoke up, saying: "My good woman, don't go away. The baby doesn't disturb me." "It isn't for that I leave, sir;" was her reply, "its you disturbs the baby."

A belief in the speedy restoration of the French Empire is professed by M. Paul de Cassagnac. He declares the Imperialists are ready, and will be resolute when the occasion presents itself. The Prince is observing a quiet attitude, but it is said admits, like his father, the doctrine of Providential intervention.

An Ohio court has just granted a man's petition for divorce from his wife on the ground of her habitual drunkenness, the intoxication arising from the excessive use of morphine. The Court held that it makes no difference in law whether the intoxication proceeds from the use of strong drinks or from narcotics.

A young radical Russophilist, dining with Lord Salisbury at Hatfield lately, was very denunciatory of a distinguished Turkophilist, and finished by dubbing him "a Philistine." "Why Philtine?" asked the other. "Because," whispered Lord Salisbury, who had evinced unmistakable signs of boredom, "you are afflicted by the jawbone of an ass."

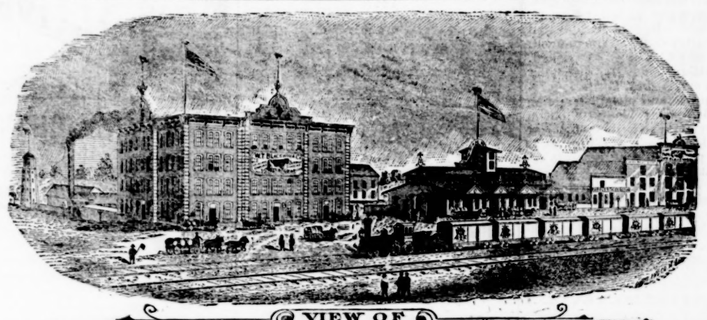

A London hostess apologized to Count Schouvaloff the other night at a political party for the stupidity of a servant who had announced him as Count Shuttle-off; but as the Austrian and German representatives were announced immediately after under the names of Beast and Monster, the Russian diplomat passed on smiling.

The Faculty of the Indiana Medical College refuse to receive female students hereafter. One of the Professors has resigned in consequence. The college has a number of female graduates, and all of them, it is claimed, have reflected credit upon it. The matter is causing much comment, and four of the Judges of the State Supreme Court have signed a paper declaring that in their opinion women should have every advantage of education that can be afforded them in philosophy, the arts and sciences, and literature, and particularly in the science and practice of medicine.

A naval order has been issued, requiring commanding officers of all vessels to send to the department full lists of the officers and crews attached to their ships before leaving any port. This will have the effect of providing the department with correct rolls of the crews at every departure from port, and in case of any disaster whatever there will be no difficulty in learning immediately the names of all on board. It will be remembered that at the time of the Huron disaster there was much difficulty in ascertaining correctly the names of the ship's company. Compliance with this order will remedy any similar trouble in case of accidents.

N. Y. Tribune: The great novelty of the Carnival at Paris this year was the arrival of a body of sixty-four Spanish students from Madrid. They were all young men of good family, who had extended for this season the excursion which they are accustomed to make every year in carnival time to some town in Spain. They wore the costume of students of Salamanca of the sixteen century; harlequin cap, with ivory spoon instead of feather; black velvet vest and belt, with steel buttons; black knee-breeches, black silk hose, black kid shoes with black bows and steel buckles; black cloth cloak and white gloves. The guitars were strung with ribbons of the national colors of Spain—red and yellow.

PROF. HERTZ'S GREAT GERMAN HAIR RESTORATIVE
PREPARED BY XANTHINE CO. RICHMOND, VA.

(From Rev. Mr. Cameron, Minister of the Presbyterian Church South.)
MOSSY CREEK, Tenn., August 22, 1876.
Xanthine Co., Richmond, Va.:
I have used the Xanthine now for three years, and have induced others to try it, and have never known it to fail in accomplishing all you claim for it. It is an excellent toilet a pleasant dressing, removing and preventing dandruff and all unpleasant itching, promoting and preserving the natural growth and color of the hair, and rendering it glossy and pliable. I confidently, cheerfully and knowingly recommend it.

J. P. GULLY—Local notice.
J. C. BREWSTER—Local notice.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—There was a large transaction in the sale of real estate yesterday, the amount paid being $25,000.

—Dr. James Craven has been appointed by Dr. Craven, to the position of second assistant Physician for the Insane Asylum.

In the Agricultural Museum is shown a cannon ball for a 4 lb. gun, which was picked up on the battle field of Guilford Court House. In this battle, fought in 1781, the red coats "got away with us."

—Drummer's Licenses were on yesterday issued by the State Treasurer to the following firms: Wanamaker & Brown, Philadelphia; A. Rosenstock & Co., Petersburg, Va., Rand & Barbee, Raleigh, N. C.

Cotton Receipts.

The receipts of cotton in the city yesterday, as given by the several weighers, amounted to 145 bales.

The Raleigh Light Infantry.

We learn with great pleasure that the brass band lately organized in this city, at a late meeting of the R. L. I., requested to be allowed to become the band of the company. The acceptance of their request will supply a want long felt by the company.

The Dime Party.

Be sure to remember that to-morrow evening the ladies of the First Presbyterion Church will, at the Lecture Room of the church, give a Dime Party. No one who has a relish for genuine amusement, and the good things of this life, generally, should fail to be present on this occasion.

The Southern Underwriters.

Justice Magnin on yesterday granted the motion of John W. Hindale, Esq., attorney for Charles E. Shaw, for an order to take the depositions of divers parties in the State of Pennsylvania, to be used in the cause of Shaw vs. the Southern Underwriters, now pending before said Justice.

Release of Convicts.

To-day the authorities of the State Penitentiary will discharge from that Institution Charles Todd, a mulatto, convicted in Mecklenburg county, of larceny, and sentenced in May, 1876. He is about 60 years of age, is 5 feet 7 inches in height, and weighed, when admitted, about 142 lbs.

Personal.

Gen. W. P. Roberts, of Gates, is in the City.

Col. L. C. Edwards, of Oxford, is registered at the Yarborough.

Mr. A. M. Goldsmith, the polite and gentlemanly salesman for Messrs. Mantoue & Co., proprietors Charleston Branch Havana Cigar Factory, is in the city on business for his house.

The County Jail.

In our county jail at present, there are 17 prisoners, all males. Of these 2 are white and 15 colored. 15 are charged with larceny, 1 assault and battery, and 1 for bastardy.

The health of the inmates is good, there being only one case of sickness, a colored man having a mild case of pneumonia. Jailor J. S. Bryan keeps everything about the jail in neat order.

Inspection of Meats.

Careful examination of the meats displayed for sale in our market should be always made, since unless there be such constant watchfulness and inspection, food unfit for use will be sold. Chief of Police Lee informs us that on Tuesday he condemned 400 lbs. of beef, as unsound. The season of the year when we should be most careful is now nigh at hand, and all precautions should be taken.

Penitentiary Recruits.

Two Sheriffs made their appearance yesterday, bringing convicts from their counties, consigned to the State Penitentiary.

Sheriff J. B. Hare, of Hertford, delivered Geo. Henshaw, Henry Porter and Harrison Reevis, all colored, convicted of larceny, the two first sentenced to 3 and the last to 5 years' imprisonment.

Sheriff T. C. Hardison, of Martin county, brought up Arister Cordon, colored, convicted of larceny and receiving, and sentenced for 2 years.

Robery of a House Last Night.

A two-story dwelling on South Person street is occupied by Mr. John Holder and family, and also by Mrs. Louisa Williams. The latter lady is absent at Chapel Hill. Last evening Mr. Holder and family attended church, and consequently the house was left unoccupied. During their absence a party of thives entered the building through a window on the first floor, and going through the room of Mr. H., went up stairs into that occupied by Mrs. Williams. This apartment they ransacked, throwing various articles of clothing etc., found in a closet, in confusion around the room. After careful search, it is supposed, for valuables, they took out a large trunk filled with clothes, and carried it down stairs. They then opened an outside door and passed into the street with their plunder. Of the property of Mr. Holder nothing was carried off except a hatchet and a razor.

When the family returned from church they found the yard gate open, the door ajar, and the window through which the thieves entered, with its sash removed.

Let our police go to work with a determination to catch these rascals, who should share the fate of the negroes who broke into Stronach's store.

J. P. Gully

Will sell to close a lot of gentlemen's hand-made, buckle or tie, nice shoes at $5.75, worth $7.00; gentlemen's hand made. thick sole Congress gaiters, at $6.00, worth $7.50; gentlemen's hand-made boots, with or without box, at $9, worth $11; gentlemen's hand-made, dress, thin-sole gaiters, "Hess" at $6.00, worth 7.50. mh 21 tf

The Agricultural Department.

We paid a visit of inspection to the Museum of this Department yesterday, and found a marked improvement in the number of exhibits from some counties. Guilford makes a particularly creditable display, as do also Rowan and Randolph, their compartments being almost filled with choice samples of their products. From Randolph and Rowan fine collections of minerals are on exhibition. These were intended to be displayed at Paris, but Commissioner McCormick could not accept them. The specimens of gold ore from both counties are particularly rich in the precious metal.

Among the articles displayed we noticed talks of the genuine West India sugar cane, grown in Duplin and Sampson counties. The stalks are large, heavy, and close-jointed. In culture these are laid in furrows in the ground, and the young stalks spring up from every joint. From Green county syrup made from the juice of water melons is shown. It was prepared by a very intelligent colored man. Forsythe sends a curiosity, in the shape of 209 stalks of wheat all of which sprung from a single grain.

Maps have been sent by 9 counties, and these form an important addition to the museum. They are so arranged as to be readily consulted. A map of Pasquotank is particularly worthy of mention, so well is it designed and executed.

Despite the continued inprovement in the displays, it is not pleasing to see the compartments of a number of counties entirely empty, not a single article sent to show the wealth and resources. This should not be, and the people of such counties should bestir themselves in the matter. Dozens of visitors visit the Museum daily, and these cannot but notice with surprise the lack of any displays from some counties and the poverty of those made by others.

Board of Aldermen.

A special meeting of the Board was held last evening. The object was the hearing of reports from Fire Commissioners and the Funding Committee. The report of Fire Commioner Green stated that the city had been offered the use of a cistern at the Peace Institute, with a capacity of 12,000, gallons, in case of fire, upon the condition that the city runs a 4 inch pipe about 130 feet. This will enable the engine to make the connection, and will cost about $100. The commissioners also recommended some action in regard to having better accommodations for the Bucket Company's truck. The report was accepted.

The following communication from the City Attorney was read.

RALEIGH, N. C., Mar. 19, 1878.

JOHN C. BLAKE, ESQ.,
Chairman Funding Committee.

DEAR SIR :—In obedience to your request, I hereby give a statement of the judgment in favor of the Raleigh Gas Light Company, vs the City of Raleigh, entered at the January special term, 1878.

Principal with interest to July 1st, 1877	$2,070.62.
Interest on $1,908.37, from July 1st, 1877, to Mar. 20th, 1878	82.82
	$2,153.44.
Discount, 20 per cent	430.68
	$1,722.76

The above is the exact sum due on the judgment, at 80 cents on the dollar, and to pay it at that figure would be an admirable trade for the city.

FAB. H. BUSBEE,
City Attorney.

Alderman Blake, chairman, read a voluminous report on the funding of the debt, which was received. The books and papers of the Committee on Funding were ordered to be deposited with the City Treasurer.

On motion the Board adjourned.

A Monster Turtle.

What do the fishermen of the present day say of the following description of an immense turtle which was captured on our coast in 1822? An extract from a paper of that ancient date says: "A turtle of a very uncommon size was caught last week by the whale and porpoise men, in one of their shark nets. It was 7 ft. 4 inches long, and measured from tip to tip of its fins or flippers, 9 ft. The thickness of its body was 2 ft. 8 inches." The skeleton of this monster turtle is still preserved at Beaufort, where it was captured. What a part he would have taken in an Aldermanic dinner!

Sharp competition is the order of the day, among the first class hotels in New York. With one or two exceptions, they are trying to keep their old trade while adhering to their previous high rates. The Grand Central has reaped much benefit from this, by quietly "cutting" the rates from one to two dollars per day. ma13-6t*

Among the Dead Failures

Of the past, how many bogus nostrums may be numbered! Beginning their careers with a tremendous flourish of trumpets, blazoned for a time in the public prints and on flaming posters, soon, but not too soon, were they relegated to the limbo of things lost on earth. But Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a living and thriving remedy. It goes on, curing and to cure. Neither underhand nor open competition affect it. On the contrary, contrast with inferior rival preparations only increase its popularity. It has been repeatedly imitated, but without success. Counterfeits of it have been surreptitiously introduced, but have fallen flat. Everywhere it entrenches itself in the confidence of the people; and well it may for it is a thoroughly reliable invigorant of the feeble, banishes dyspepsia and constipation, braces the nerves, cures rheumatic ailments and kidney complaints, and eradicates and prevents intermittent and remittent fevers. mar 12d&wlt

Happy tidings for nervous sufferers, and those who have been dosed, drugged, and quacked. Pulvermacher's Electric Belts effectually cure premature debility, weakness, and decay. Book and Journal, with information worth thousands, mailed free. Address PULVERMACHER GALVANIC CO., Cincinnati, O., no18deodaw

I HAVE USED GILES' LINIMENT IODIDE OF AMMONIA in my family and for my horses, with wonderful results. Have tried other Liniments, but have found none equal to it. Would not be without it. T. W. Decker, Milk Depot, 304 East 27th St., N. Y. Pescud, Lee & Co., Agents, Raleigh, N. C.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure a cough in one-half the time necessary to cure it with any other medicine; and it does it, not by drying it up, but by removing the cause, subduing the irritation, and healing the affected parts. Sold by druggists. mar 20-d1 w1t

MISCELLANEOUS.

SAVE YOUR HAIR TO LEARN HOW TO DO IT READ AND HEED WHAT FOLLOWS.

SAVE YOUR HAIR.—The laws of Health and Longevity demand it, the customs of social life require it. The matter is of great importance in every way.

BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR.—It is the surpassing crown of glory, and for the loss of it there is no compensation.

CULTIVATE YOUR HAIR.—For by no other means can it be saved and beautified.

LYON'S KATHAIRON,

discovered thirty-five years ago by Prof. Lyon, of Yale, is the most perfect preparation in the world for preserving and beautifying the hair.

BESIDES BEING THE BEST HAIR DRESSING EVER PRODUCED, LYON'S KATHAIRON WILL POSITIVELY PREVENT GRAYNESS, AND WILL RESTORE NEW HAIR TO BALD HEADS, if the roots and follicles are not destroyed.

A FAIR SPECIMEN.

I had been entirely bald for several years constitutional, I suppose. I used a few bottles of Kathairon, and to my great surprise, I have a thick growth of young hair.

COL. JOHN L. DORRANCE, U. S. A.

1. To Cure Baldness.
2. To Restore Gray Hair
3. To Remove Dandruff.
4. To Dress and Beautify the Hair.

BEAR IN MIND.—The Kathairon is no sticky paste of sulphur and sugar-of-lead, to paint and daub the hair, and paralyze the brain. It is a pure and limpid vegetable lotion, intended to restore the hair by natural growth and reinvigoration. It is splendidly perfumed, and the most delightful toilet dressing known. No lady's or gentleman's toilet outfit is complete without Lyon's Kathairon
